IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Ben C. Maxwell, who passed away one year ago, June 9, 1956.
The month of June is here,
But we are thankful, God to you.
To grieve, we have no other choice,
To us you'll always be near.
How we miss your loving voice,
The touch of your strong hands so dear.
We often sit and think of you;
That you could not say goodbye.
We did not know the pain you had.
We only knew you left us,
God will give us strength,
To bear our heavy cross.
He is the only one who knows,
How bitter is our loss.
—Sadly missed by:
Wife Rosa and Children.

IN MEMORIAM
GOWIN— In loving remembrance of our father, Henry Harrison Gowin, who passed away 9 years ago, June 11th, 1948.
Your memory to us is a keepsake,
With which we will never part.
Though God has you in his keeping,
We will have you in our hearts.

If we had all the world to give,
We would give it, yes, and more,
To hear your voice, and see your smile,
And greet you at the door.
We like to think when life is done,
Wherever heaven may be,
That you'll be standing at the door,
To welcome us with Thee.
—Sadly missed by

New Use Found for Grandpa's Flannels

CHICAGO — The pattern of grandpa's red flannels has been altered slightly and used to make a pressure suit for people with a serious type of low blood pressure.
The tight-fitting suit, made of elastic cotton-rayon knit material, puts pressure over the lower half of the body and helps prevent a patient with orthostatic hypotension from fainting when he stands up.
Orthostatic hypotension — sometimes called postural hypotension —results from inability of peripheral arteries to constrict and thus enough pressure to force the blood back to heart. The condition may be associated with diabetes mellitus or may follow a sympathectomy, an operation to relieve excessively high blood pressure. A person with the disorder is all right as long as he is lying down, but when he stands, there is a sudden drop in blood pressure and he becomes faint—unless he's wearing a pressure suit.

We're Healthier, We Live Longest

BERKELEY, Cal. — Universities of California physiologists, after studying disease and mortality tables in Europe and America, reports that Americans are not only living longer and in better health, but that those in the middle years are physiologically four years younger than their predecessors living at the beginning of the century.
More individuals today live to adult life, they contract heart disease and cancer later in life and it now appears that 5 to 8 years have been added to the productive early middle life.

Police arrested Earl L. Collins, 19, when he put a sign on his car warning of a radar trap ahead. His mother was arrested because she raised such a fuss about her son's arrest.
